

Sprint 1 Goal

In the inception phase of the whole project, we aim to understand and collect client requirements through communication, refine scope and requirements, create the motivational model, define clear user stories, and develop digital prototypes. Additionally, we will also set up the development environment, including Confluence and Trello for better project management and documentation, as well as Github to prepare for subsequent development sprints.